Six-piece Gorham Silver Tea and Coffee
Service, Providence, c. 1879

Silver tea and coffee services from across the globe are particularly well-represented in this auction. With two strong Russian services, one by Pavel Ovchinnikov (illustrated on the next page), the other by Nicholls & Plincke, in addition to numerous American examples by makers such as Gorham, Tiffany & Co., and Arthur Stone, there is a set to please every buyer.

The example shown here showcases the strength of Gorham's early production and the whimsical amalgamation of design that occurred in late 19th century American silver.

Selections from a private collection of Greek/Southern Italian pottery assembled in the 1970s featuring red-figure pottery, a technique whereby the figures are painted against a black ground allowing for a dramatic and naturalistic design. Subjects are often depicted showing motion and portray Greek life. Forms include storage jars, wine and water vessels, and perfumes.
