THE ATTIC SALE

POWDERHAM CASTLE & BROCKLESBY PARK

FOREWORD

BY
CHARLES COURTENAY,
19TH EARL OF DEVON

For our family, Powderham Castle is both our home and a tribute to our long relationship with this corner of Devon, its community and its landscape—a symbiotic stewardship that has sustained for 700 years. This auction will celebrate Powderham’s rich local and national story, as well as its unique global connections. As we clear much needed space within the Castle’s towers and upper floors to renew Powderham once more, we offer a rare opportunity to share treasures that have been hidden for generations. This collection is a tribute to the evolution and continuity of Powderham; from its medieval beginnings to the present-day it has been both an intimate domestic space and a theatre for baronial hospitality on a grand scale. Each object offered for auction carries a piece of Powderham’s rich and varied history, and we are delighted to share these stories with the world.

PAYMENT

If you are successful, an invoice will be sent to the email address registered on your bidder account. The invoice will include detailed payment and collection information. If you wish to see this in advance, please visit our website. Items must be paid for in full and Know Your Client checks must be completed before we can release any purchases. Third party payments are not accepted. First time buyers may also be subject to restrictions on the methods of payment we can accept. Please confirm this with the saleroom prior to collection.

COLLECTIONS, SHIPPING AND STORAGE

Goods will be released on receipt of payment of all sales charges. Please note that none of the items in the sale will be available for collection from Dreweatts Donnington Priory. All items will be moved to Sackville-West Moving & Storing, Andover (SP10 3SA) on Tuesday 3 June and will be ready for collection from Thursday 5 June. Storage will be free of charge until Friday 13 June. Property not collected by Friday 13 June will incur storage charges from Monday 16 June: a one-off fee of £20 plus a daily £3 storage fee per lot per part or full day thereafter (charges subject to 20% VAT). Collection is available by appointment, Monday – Friday (9am – 4:30pm). All storage charges are the responsibility of the purchaser, billed directly by Sackville-West and are payable prior to collection. Sackville-West will provide an additional week’s free storage if they are instructed by the purchaser to deliver to them. Contact: Sackville-West: tel: +44 (0) 2080 909988 | email: office@sackvillewest.co.uk. A list of our suggested shippers is available on the Dreweatts website. Third party collections are permitted on receipt of authorisation from the invoiced buyer. To arrange a collection, contact Dreweatts: tel: +44 (0) 1635 553553 | email: collections@dreweatts.com.

CONDITIONS OF SALE

Any registration to bid is subject to acceptance of our Auction Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy. Both are available on our website.

CONDITION OF ITEMS

Buyers must satisfy themselves to the condition of any item prior to bidding. Detailed condition reports and additional images are available upon request.

EXPORT OF ITEMS

Prospective bidders are advised to familiarise themselves with any export and import restrictions or prohibitions applicable to the lots they wish to purchase. For example, the lots may contain prohibited material such as endangered species (and therefore be subject to CITES regulations) or be subject to shipping or trade restrictions. Cultural objects of certain age and value may require a UK export licence. It is buyer’s responsibility to obtain any relevant export and/or import licences and permits, as well as pay any customs duties, taxes and other fees applicable on import into the destination country. Dreweatts will not cancel the sale if a lot may not be exported, imported or it is seized for any reason by a government authority.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Where relevant, for example Picture auctions or Clocks auctions, a glossary of cataloguing terms will be available in the printed catalogues as well as on our website.

POWDERHAM CASTLE

A CELEBRATION OF 700 YEARS OF STEWARDSHIP
LOTS 1-209

INTRODUCTION

The Rose Terrace, Powderham Castle, circa 1930

In the summer of 1325, the marriage of Hugh de Courtenay, Earl of Devon, to Margaret de Bohun established a family relationship with place and landscape that has endured for seven centuries. With her illustrious ancestry—being the granddaughter of King Edward I—Margaret brought to the union not only her noble blood and the famous swan crest but also the manor of Powderham, nestled beside the Exe estuary at the heart of Devon, which was part of her dowry. An ancient strategic landscape with command of the busy continental trade-route out of the Exe, Powderham soon became an ancestral seat of the Courtenay family – medieval magnates of the Southwest. Over the centuries the building campaigns of multiple generations have made Powderham one of the most architecturally layered and culturally significant private houses in the country.

A generation after Margaret and Hugh's historic marriage, their fifth son Sir Philip Courtenay, Admiral of the West and Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, made Powderham his home by building Powderham Castle. Its original form was a fortified manor house centred upon a Great Hall and kitchen surrounded by six castellated towers—a form both practical and symbolic, combining a baronial aesthetic with a capacity for generous hospitality. These early structures still lie at the heart of Powderham's architecture today, their enduring presence bearing witness to the centuries of adaptation and renewal that have followed.

The story of Powderham Castle is, above all, one of continuity through transformation—of a building and estate evolving through the tides of taste, politics, and domestic life. Over the centuries, it has been expanded, reimagined, and adapted by successive generations of the Courtenay family, each responding to the political, cultural and architectural ideals of their era. The result is a remarkable palimpsest: a self-consciously Gothic revival country house with visible traces of the Medieval, Georgian, Regency and Victorian periods, layered one upon another with surprising harmony.

This stylistic evolution has not occurred by accident, but as a conscious and living tradition of stewardship – respecting the old while embracing the new. The Courtenays' sense of ancestral duty, rooted in their origins stretching back to the Crusades and Carolingian France, has imbued their approach to Powderham with a remarkable consistency of vision. The Castle's consciously Gothic character—visible in its battlements, pointed arches, and romantic interiors—serves as a continual reference to it and the family's medieval foundations, while also accommodating the comfort and decorative ambitions of later centuries.

Beyond its architecture, Powderham's interiors provide a lens through which to view the social and cultural shifts of English country house life. From grand state rooms to service quarters, each space tells a story of use, reuse and adaptation, revealing how generations of inhabitants lived, entertained, and worked within these walls. Of particular interest is the way in which the contents of the Castle reflect both continuity and quiet change: a fusion of works ranging from the important and documented to the modest and domestic. Many objects were never discarded but were gradually replaced, stored, or repurposed—supplanted not by irrelevance, but by fashion's inevitable march forward. In this way, Powderham preserves the strata of country house collecting, where objects from across centuries coexist in a silent, visual dialogue.

The First Library, circa 1890

These items—be they grand commissions or humble furnishings—are, in many ways, frozen in time. Yet they remain a vibrant part of the Castle’s living history. They bear witness to private lives and public moments, to artistic ambitions and functional necessities. They offer insight into how the British aristocracy inhabited and interpreted their homes across the centuries, layering each generation’s tastes and priorities atop those of the last.

The most significant chapter in Powderham’s recent architectural and artistic development occurred during the 18th century, when the Castle emerged from its post-Civil War decline – it had been besieged and slighted in 1645, and abandoned for some decades thereafter. Under the guidance of three successive Viscounts Courtenay, the house was transformed from a medieval relic into a Georgian treasure house, reflecting the Enlightenment ideals of symmetry, order, and aesthetic refinement. The interiors were reimagined in accordance with the fashions of the age, and local and national craftsmen were commissioned to create interiors that expressed both prestige and modernity, while retaining Powderham’s beloved medieval core. The most notable remodelling occurred to the ancient Great Hall in the 1750s, when it was split in two to create what is now the Marble Hall, containing William Stumbel’s magnificent grandfather clock (the largest in Europe), and the sumptuous Staircase Hall, with John Jenkins’ extraordinary rococo plasterwork that is unrivalled in an English domestic interior. This remarkable space found fame in Merchant Ivory’s Remains of the Day, which was filmed (in large part) at Powderham.

Yet it was the 3rd Viscount William ‘Kitty’ Courtenay—later 9th Earl of Devon—who would leave the most indelible mark on Powderham’s cultural identity and the broader Gothic movement. Known for his beauty and his acute artistic sensibility, Courtenay was a notable figure in Regency society. His life was marked by scandal following the public revelation of his teenage relationship with the Gothic writer, architect, and fellow aesthete William Beckford. In an era when homosexuality was not only taboo but punishable by law, Courtenay became the subject of widespread condemnation and, much later in life, even exile. However, his influence on the older Beckford was significant: Courtenay appears as a leading character in Beckford’s famous Gothic novel, The History of the Caliph Vathek, which was written at the height of their relationship, and Powderham’s organically haphazard Gothic aesthetic was inspiration for Beckford and James Wyatt’s Gothic Revival masterpiece at Fonthill Abbey.

Given the scandal of his early life, Powderham offered Courtenay something rare: sanctuary. Within the safety of his ancestral home and its grounds, he found space to express himself, commissioning some of the Castle’s most exquisite interiors. Chief among these is the Music Room, designed by James Wyatt and executed by the sculptor Richard Westmacott in the early 1790s. The largest room in the Castle, it was conceived as a setting for performance and display, designed to impress guests and offer a stage for the Earl’s cultivated world. Given he was the only male amongst 14 children, he was also responsible for introducing his many sisters to society, and the Music Room provided a setting for his renowned hospitality. It also served as a deeply personal project—a symbol of resilience and of artistry prevailing amid adversity.

Portrait of the 3rd Viscount, William (Kitty) Courtenay, 9th Earl of Devon

The furnishings from this period reflect Courtenay’s commitment to the highest standards of design and craftsmanship. A monumental Axminster carpet, specially commissioned for the Music Room from Thomas Whitty’s celebrated Devon factory, stands as a testament to the ambition of the project. At the time, it held the record as the largest carpet ever produced by the manufactory, later exceeded only by one created for the Prince Regent’s Brighton Pavilion. This was no mere decorative object—it was a statement of local pride, taste, and cultural sophistication.

Other pieces from the Georgian period similarly reflect the fusion of elegance and function. A rare cast bronze ‘two-pounder’ cannon, bearing the Courtenay family crest, was commissioned for use on the family’s yacht, Dolphin, combining naval technology with aristocratic flair. A George III mahogany and painted hall chair, attributed to the renowned firm of Gillows of Lancaster, features a painted roundel and viscount’s coronet—refined yet robust, symbolic of both identity and hospitality.

The Music Room at Powderham Castle, circa 1960

Today, Powderham Castle remains in the hands of the family who built it. Unlike many historic estates which were broken up, sold off, or transformed into institutions, Powderham has remained a family home, while continuing to offer baronial hospitality to guests from far and wide. This is just what Sir Philip intended when he built Powderham all those years ago and its preservation is not the result of nostalgia, but of active and evolving stewardship linked with a determination to serve. Conservation efforts are ongoing, aimed to maintain the Castle not as a static monument, but as a living enterprise—part historic family home, part working rural estate, and part cultural landmark.

As it enters its eighth century, Powderham stands not only as an extraordinary architectural achievement but as a testament to continuity through change. Its layered history invites reflection on the wider themes of British heritage: the intersection of private lives with national history; the evolution of taste across generations; and the enduring dialogue between tradition and reinvention. In Powderham, history is not merely preserved—it is inhabited, shaped, shared and continuously renewed.

Francis Watkins and Addison Smith were in partnership between 1763 and 1774. Francis Watkins (c.1723–1784) was a leading London optician and scientific instrument maker whose clientele included the British aristocracy and members of the Royal Society. In 1763, he entered into partnership with Addison Smith, his former apprentice and later son-in-law, forming the firm Watkins & Smith. Operating from premises at 5 Charing Cross, the company quickly gained a reputation for producing high-quality optical and philosophical instruments, including Gregorian and Newtonian reflecting telescopes, achromatic refractors, microscopes, and precision barometers. Their work was characterized by a high level of technical refinement and aesthetic craftsmanship, catering to the growing demand for scientific apparatus during the Enlightenment. The firm remained active until 1774, when the partnership dissolved. Watkins continued to trade under his own name until his death. A PAIR OF GEORGE II CAST SILVER CANDLESTICKS
BENJAMIN GODFREY, LONDON 1738
The knopped stems on shaped quatrefoil bases engraved with a crest and an armorial and scratch engraved No 1 and No 2, with later unmarked sconces
Scratch engraved to bases No 1 and No. 2
21.5cm high
1062g (33.99oz)

These are the arms and crest of Henry Reginald Courtenay (1714-1763) politician of Aldershot, Hampshire and his wife Catherine Bathurst (1718-1783). They were married in 1737, and the assay date of 1738 might suggest that the item was intended to mark their marriage.

Henry Reginald Courtenay was the second surviving son of Sir William Courtenay (1676-1735) 2nd Baronet and 6th Earl of Devon by Anne Bertie (1685-1728) daughter of James Bertie (1653-1699) 1st Earl of Abingdon, created 1682.

Catherine Bathurst was the daughter of Allen Bathurst (1684-1775) 1st Baron Bathurst of Battlesden, Bedfordshire, created 1712 and later in 1772 created 1st Earl Bathurst of Cirencester Park, Gloucestershire, by his wife Catherine Apsley (died 1768).

Thomas Joseph Giffard (1764-1823) of Chillington, Staffordshire, and his wife, Charlotte Courtenay (1764-1844), married in 1788. Thomas Joseph Giffard was the son of Thomas Giffard (1734-1775) of Chillington, Staffordshire by Barbara Throckmorton (1737-1764) daughter of Robert Throckmorton (1702-1791) 4th Baronet, and Catherine Collingwood (1716-1761)

Charlotte Courtenay was the daughter of William Courtenay (1742-1788) 2nd Viscount Courtenay by Frances Clack (1744-1782) daughter of Thomas Clack (1714-1761). Charlotte and Frances Courtenay were sisters.

Sir John Honywood was the son and heir of William Honywood (1731-1764) of Malling Abbey, Kent by Elizabeth Clack(1731-1801) daughter of Thomas Clack of Wallingford, Berkshire. William Honywood predeceased his father Sir John Honywood (1710-1781) 3rd Baronet and his son Sir John Honywood (1757-1806) succeeded as 4th Baronet.

MARY BEALE (BRITISH 1632-1697/99)
PORTRAIT OF A LADY WEARING A BLUE DRESS
Oil on canvas, feigned oval
75.5 x 62.5cm

£5,000-8,000

Mary Beale (1632–1697/99) was one of the first professional female portrait painters in Britain and a central figure in 17th-century English art. Active during the Restoration period, she built a successful studio in London with the support of her husband Charles Beale, who acted as her studio manager. Beale was known for her refined and sensitive portraits, often depicting members of the gentry and professional classes. Her use of the feigned oval was a hallmark of Restoration portraiture, lending intimacy and classical elegance to her sitters. For further reading, see: Belsey, Hugh. Mary Beale, Portrait Painter. THE POWDERHAM CASTLE ARMCHAIRS BY JAMES WYATT

A PAIR OF GEORGE III CREAM-PAINTED AND PARCEL-GILT ARMCHAIRS

LATE 18TH CENTURY, THE DESIGN ATTRIBUTED TO JAMES WYATT, POSSIBLY BY ELWARD, MARSH & TATHAM

Each with a rectangular padded back and downcurved part-padded arms with leaf-scroll terminals, the padded seat on panelled square tapering legs headed by rosette blocks, the frames carved throughout with leaf and berry swags, the cream silk upholstery apparently original but distressed, with batten-carrying holes to seat rails.

86cm high, 62cm wide, 57cm deep

Provenance:

Supplied to William, 3rd Viscount Courtenay, later 9th Earl of Devon (1768-1835) and thence by descent.

Literature:

Inventory 1803, probably part of a set of 8 cabriole chairs with satin seats, white and gold frames, recorded in the Sitting Room

Inventory 1835, recorded in the Print Room

Inventory 1880, '8 smaller armchairs, yellow satin, gold leg,' recorded in the Music Room

Illustrated 'Powderham Castle II', Mark Girouard, Country Life, July 11th 1963, Vol. CXXXIV, p. 82 in the First Library and p. 142 in the Second Library.

The armchairs are conceived in the late 18th century neoclassical taste promoted in published works by designers such as George Hepplewhite and Thomas Sheraton while their rectilinear form and sparse decoration is consistent with the oeuvre of James Wyatt (d.1813). Wyatt succeeded Robert Adam as the 'most fashionable architect' and 'first in his line' after the opening in 1772 of the Pantheon, the 'stately pleasure dome' in Oxford Street, London that Wyatt had designed. Horace Walpole declared it 'the most beautiful edifice in England', and the public was no less enthusiastic. It was a turning point in the careers of both Wyatt and Adam. Wyatt became the dominant figure while Adam received no significant country house commissions after 1774, indeed Wyatt took over several projects that had formerly been Adam's. Wyatt was also a prolific and accomplished designer of furniture and, working in the fashionable neoclassical style of the day, could create a complete architectural room unified down to the smallest detail (John Martin Robinson, James Wyatt Architect to George III, London, 2011, pp. 13-57 and 144-165).

William, 3rd Viscount Courtenay, engaged Wyatt to create a grand neoclassical Music Room at Powderham Castle, 1794-96, Wyatt, by then long-established as an architect, was in Courtenay's circle through his association with William Beckford. He also had established relationships with furniture-makers including Gillows of Lancaster and London, Marsh & Tatham of Mount Street, London, and Matthew Boulton, the inventor, engineer and silversmith of Birmingham (Wyatt remodelled Boulton's Soho House around the same time). The relationship between Courtenay and Marsh & Tatham is well documented, the latter's bill for work carried out for Courtenay between 1997-99 amounting to at least £3000, and possibly even more since a second bill was submitted in 1803, though this may have duplicated in some part the earlier bill, and in fact payment was deferred for another three years (Courtenay's extravagant lifestyle having resulted in rather dire financial straits). It is highly likely therefore that these chairs, from a set of at eight, were among the furnishings supplied by Marsh and Tatham.

The remainder of the set was sold from Powderham at Sotheby's house sale, London, 29 September 2009, lots 65, 66 and 67 (each pair £16,500 including premium).

With a leather-lined seat, hinged to form a set of steps with red baize lined treads. Labelled 'HEARSON Cabinet Maker & Upholsterer AND FANCY CHAIR MANUFACTURER, Litchdon Street, BARNSTAPLE Auctioneer & Appraiser And House Agent' 52cm high, 95cm wide, 50cm deep as a bench

Provenance:
Possibly supplied to William Courtenay, 9th Earl of Devon (d.1835), or his cousin William Courtenay, 10th Earl of Devon (d. 1859) and thence by descent at Powderham Castle
George and Charles Hearson (fl. 1823 - 30) were listed as chair-makers at High Street, Barnstaple and later Pitton High Street, Barnstaple (Cotton archive). George is listed trading independently at the Litchdon Street address in 1838, at which time he is described as making rocking-horses and fancy chairs (BIFMO). The label here which doesn't appear to have been previously recorded also states that Hearson (presumably George) acted as an agent.

THE POWDERHAM CASTLE
MAHOGANY ARMCHAIRS

A PAIR OF GEORGE III MAHOGANY ARMCHAIRS
ATTRIBUTED TO WILLIAM AND RICHARD GOMM, CIRCA 1760
Each with a shaped padded back, the pierced serpentine frame headed by a foliate-framed cabochon above part padded arms with scrolled terminals and a padded serpentine seat, on cabriole legs carved with interlaced strapwork and with scrolled feet and brass castors, old damages, restorations and replacement 110cm high, 79cm wide, 70cm deep

Provenance:
Probably acquired by William, 2nd Viscount Courtenay, (1742-1788) and thence by descent.

Literature:
Inventory 1803, recorded as mahogany armchairs.
Illustrated 'Powderham Castle', Country Life, April 4th 1908, Vol. XXIII, p. 490, in the Marble Hall.
Illustrated 'Powderham Castle III', Mark Girouard, Country Life, July 18th 1963, Vol. CXXXIV, p. 143 in the Great Hall.

The chairs reflect the 'French' rococo taste that was its height in England in the mid-18th century, their serpentine frames pierced and wrapped with Roman acanthus leaves in the 'picturesque' manner that was invented on the continent by artists, architects and ornementistes such as Meisssonier and Oppenord, and promoted in England particularly in regard to furnishings by William Hogarth in The Analysis of Beauty (1753).

While the chairs' design is attributed to the Clerkenwell father and son cabinet-makers William and Richard Gomm, they relate to a much larger group of related designs associated with furniture-makers who were active at the time. Foremost among these was Thomas Chippendale whose pattern book The Gentleman and Cabinet-Makers' Director was first published in 1754 and included a number of designs for armchairs derived from French patterns, described variously as 'modern' or 'picturesque'; further he illustrated one such chair at the head of his advertisement for the establishment of his St Martin's Lane workshop and adopted a similar pattern as his shop sign. Chippendale's accompanying notes on how such chairs might be executed included that the backs are 'open below at the seat, which greatly lightens them' and that the carving be lessened, ie fretted 'by an ingenious workman without detriment to the chair'.

William Gomm established his business in 1724 at Peterborough Court, Smithfield, but moved in 1736 to Newcastle House, Clerkenwell Square where he built more extensive workshops. In the 1730s Gomm had a close association with the German cabinet-maker Abraham Roentgen who had travelled to Paris, Rotterdam and London to gain experience in the cabinet trade and he is recorded working with 'Gern' (certainly Gomm) after the firm relocated to Newcastle House. Richard, his eldest son from his first marriage, joined him in business and by 1763 the business traded as William Gomm & Son & Co. William Gomm's earliest recorded commission was for Richard Hoare of Barn Elms, London, 1731-33 and the most extensive was for the 5th Lord Leigh for Stoneleigh Park, Warwickshire, from 1763, amounting to more than 180 various items and totalling £819 9s (Shakespeare Birthplace Trust, Leigh receipts, DR 18/5). Perhaps the most celebrated of the firm's commissions was the set of carved giltwood armchairs for Kenure Park, Co. Dublin, most probably for Sir Roger Palmer, 1st Bt., circa 1760-65. The mansion had celebrated rococo plasterwork ceilings and carved woodwork and the equally impressive furniture was supplied by the best London makers including Thomas Chippendale and Pierre Langlois. The Kenure armchairs were designed in the fully conceived 'French' rococo' taste of the mid-18th century and like the Powderham chairs the frames were pierced-through, following the advice of Chippendale; the pattern appears among designs, some bearing the signature of William Gomm and variously dated for 1761, this particular design appears to be unique in its form (L. Boynton, 'William & Richard Gomm', Burlington Magazine, June 1980, fig. 25).

A pair of chairs from the Powderham set was sold in Sotheby's house sale, London, 29 September 2009, lot 23 (£79,250 including premium), and again Christie's, New York, 8 April 2025, lot 210 ($88,200 including premium).

A PAIR OF CARVED GILTWOOD BERGERES
 MODERN, AFTER THE DESIGN BY MARSH & TATHAM, CIRCA 1797, FOR THE POWDERHAM CASTLE DOLPHIN SUITE
 Each with a scrolled and leaf-carved padded back, part-padded arms supported by dolphins and a loose cushion, above reeded and ribbon-wrapped rails on tapering turned, leaf-carved and reeded legs with brass lotus-capped castors
 94cm high, 76cm wide, 76cm deep

Provenance:
 Supplied to Hugh Courtenay, 18th Earl of Devon, and thence by descent

Literature:
 John Hardy, 'The Powderham Dolphin Chairs', Furniture History, vol. 29, 1993, pp.140 - 143.

Illustrated 'Powderham Castle III', Mark Girouard, Country Life, July 18th 1963, Vol. CXXXIV, p. 140 in the Music Room.

The Powderham 'Dolphin' seat furniture was commissioned in the late 1790s by William 3rd Viscount Courtenay, later 9th Earl of Devon (1768-1835), who shared his close friend William Beckford Junior's antiquarian, musical and theatrical interests and celebrated his coming-of-age in 1791 with a magnificent masquerade ball. Between 1794-96 he employed Beckford's architect James Wyatt (d.1813) to create a grand neo-classical Music Room at Powderham Castle, intended to serve also as a ballroom and theatre.

The suite was likely included in the fee of £3000 for upholsterer's work etc carried out between 1797-99 by Messrs. Elward, Marsh and Tatham of Mount Street, upholsters to George, Prince of Wales, later George IV (M.Girouard, 'Powderham Castle - III', Country Life, 18 July 1963, p.142). A further sum of a similar amount was due to Messrs. March and Tatham in 1803, though this may have duplicated some, or much of the earlier bill, and payment was deferred until 1806 reflecting at the time Courtenay's financial difficulties arising from his extravagance.

The whole suite including four bergeres, four sofas and eighteen side chairs is recorded in the Music Room at Powderham in an 1803 'Inventory of the furniture... belongg. to the Right. Honle Lord Viscount Courtenay at Powderham Castle and Exwell Farm in the County of Devon'.

The form of the bergeres demonstrate the influence of fashionable French seat furniture of the 1770s and 1780s such as the fauteuils a la Turque supplied by Georges Jacob to the Comte d'Artois for le Cabinet turc at the Palais du Temple (P. Verlet, Les Meubles Francais du XVIIIe Siecle, Paris, 1986, fig. 142). Lord Courtenay would have been highly aware of contemporary Parisian style having spent time in Paris with Beckford who rented the Hotel d'Orsay on rue de Varenne in 1788 and visited Paris frequently both during and after the Revolution. The arm supports are modelled as dolphins, a reference to the story told by Herodotus of the Grecian poet Arion who, returning from Italy to Corinth, was robbed and thrown overboard by the ship's crew but sang to attract and charm a dolphin who carried him safely to shore. Dolphins also act as supporters for the Courtenay coat of arms and prominently feature in the architecture.

A pair of bergeres from the Powderham suite was sold Christie's, London, 5 December 1991, lot 222 (£242,000 including premium) and a pair of sofas, lot 223 (£132,000 including premium).

A GEORGE III CAST BRONZE 'TWO-POUNDER' CANNON
T ENGLISH & CO, LONDON, DATED 1775

The multi-stage ring-moulded barrel with swamped muzzle opposing ringed knob cascabel, the upper surface cast with Courtenay cypher to breech and makers inscription T. ENGLISH & Co., LONDON FECIT 1775 to the end ring behind the scallop shell cast touch hole, with dolphin cast handles ringed ball cascabel and below-centre trunnions
the carriage later
Barrel 127cm long
Carriage 52.5cm high

Provenance:

Almost certainly cast as part of a group of twelve for the second Viscount William Courtenay for his private yacht Dolphin; later removed to Powderham Castle, Devon

Literature:

Kennard, A.R. Gunfounding & Gunfounders..., Arms & Armour Press, London & New York 1986, page 72.

The present cannon belongs to a group of twelve cast by T. English & Co. to a commission by second Viscount William Courtenay most probably for his private Yacht Dolphin in 1775. The barrel is similar in design to a British light 3-pounder field gun of the period but with a 2.7 inch bore equating to 2-pounder calibre. The casting of these cannon was executed in the traditional early manner on cores, rather than being bored-out from solid as was the practice for military ordnance at that time. Consequently, the guns have four steel chaplets in the breech, three in the base ring and one through the cascabel. The breech is relief decorated with a letter C surmounted by Viscount's coronet and the base ring is cast for the founder along with the date 1775. The cast dolphin handles are a feature characteristic of earlier guns which may have specified as much for their decorative appeal as their practical usage.

It is most likely that the twelve cannon from the Dolphin were later removed to Powderham Castle on decommissioning of the vessel, where the present example, along with two others, have remained ever since.

Another two guns from this group, were sold by James D. Julia Auctions, Fairfield ME, (U.S.A.), in their sale of Firearms autumn 2014 (lot 1409) for $34,500. It is believed that these two examples came to New York in the early 19th century with the third Viscount 'Kitty' Courtenay, who was forced to live abroad due to scandal.

Thomas English & Co. are recorded in Kent's London Directory as brass and iron founders working from Stoney Street, Southwark, London in 1776. They were formerly listed as English and Bradley working from the same address in 1772-74; and then English, Lane & Co. in 1775. Latterly the business was listed as English & Roper, gun and shot founders, working from Cuckold's Point, Stoney Street, Southwark in 1777.

Provenance:
Probably commissioned by William 'Kitty' Courtenay, 9th Earl of Devon, when 3rd Viscount Courtenay, and thence by descent

Literature:
Inventory 1803, recorded as a set of twelve in the Great Hall

Inventory 1880, six are recorded in the Staircase Hall.

Illustrated 'Powderham Castle', Country Life, April 4th 1908, Vol.
XXIII, p. 487, in the Staircase Hall.

Illustrated 'Powderham Castle I', Mark Girouard, Country Life, July 4th 1963, Vol. XXXIV, p. 21 in the Marble Hall.

An almost identical drawing of a hall chair was included in Gillows Estimate Sketch Book for 1790 (see Lindsay Boynton, Gillow Furniture Designs 1760-1800, 1995, pl. 255).

Given the architectural context of the present chairs, it is interesting to note that Robert Gillow II (1745-1795), who ran the London branch of Gillows, was a close friend of James Wyatt's architect brother Samuel. Their close association with each other led to commissions furnishing many notable English country houses and indeed a number of chair designs associated with James Wyatt appear in the Gillows pattern books (L. Boynton, op. cit. pp.19-20 for a discussion of the Wyatt-Gillow alliance)

A PAIR OF VERY LARGE 'PALLADIAN' MAHOGANY AND PARCEL-GILT CABINETS

INCORPORATING 18TH CENTURY ELEMENTS OF A FITTED CABINET POSSIBLY DESIGNED BY OTHO CHANNON

Each with a triangular pediment above a pair of panelled doors enclosing two banks of shelves, flanked by pilasters with ionic capitals, with two further doors below and a shaped plinth base
360cm high, 190cm wide, 60cm deep

Provenance:

The 18th century cabinet commissioned by Sir William Courtenay, 3rd Bt., later 1st Viscount Courtenay (d.1762) and thence by descent. Subsequently adapted.

Literature:

Inventory 1914, presented in the State Bedroom.

The cabinets, of strongly architectural form, complement many of the internal features at Powderham, notably chimney pieces and door cases that are attributed to Otho Channon (d.1756), the triangular pediment corresponds to several designs for bookcases published by Batty Langley in his City and Country Builder's and Workman's Treasury of Designs (1740).

Among the most significant furniture at Powderham was the pair of magnificent engraved and inlaid brass and parcel-gilt padouk bookcases supplied for the library by John Channon of Exeter and London, these are signed in cartouches and dated 1740 and there are payments recorded in the Powderham papers on 29 April 1741 - 'Cash to John Channon on acct - £50'. There are also modest payments in this period (the earliest in 1743) and until 1751 to Otho Channon and it is believed that the latter may have been responsible for carving the chimneypiece in the library. It's possible that Otho Channon also supplied the original cabinet, perhaps a fitting within the original library, decorated in the period 1739 - 46, on the first floor, and which was subsequently removed and remodelled (with additional elements) to form the cabinets offered here.

John and Otho Channon were likely half-brothers, both sons of Otho Channon Snr, of Exeter. Otho was the older brother, born in 1698, John was born in 1711 and was apprenticed in 1726 to his older brother who at the time was described as 'of Exeter joiner'. In 1737 John was establishing his cabinet-making business on St Martin's Lane in London, possibly trading under the sign of 'The Golden Fleece'. There are further references to John Channon in newspaper advertisements in 1742. Evidently John was commissioned to supply the pair of elaborate bookcases for Powderham despite being in London and this was presumably either because he was already known to Sir William as a fellow Devonian, or because his older brother, who never established a business beyond Exeter, was already working at Powderham. If Otho Channon was responsible for the library chimneypiece, it seems likely that he also supplied other carved woodwork such as overdoors, chimneypieces and indeed the (likely) fitted cabinet that shares some design features with the carved architecture and which was the precursor to the present cabinets.

A PAIR OF EXTREMELY RARE CHINESE IMPERIAL POLYCHROME
QIANGJIN AND CLOISSONNE SEDAN CHAIR POLES
KANGXI (1662-1722)
245cm long, 5cm diameter at end terminals, 7cm deep at connecting terminals, extended 490cm

Provenance:
Almost certainly the Qing Court Collection
Until brought to Powderham by Colonel The Hon. Reginald Bertie (1856-1950) during the Boxer Rebellion, and thence by descent

The current pair delicately combines the two lacquering techniques qiangjin (incised lines filled with gold) and cai qi (coloured lacquer).
The qiangjin technique was developed as early as the Warring States period, widely adopted on lacquer wares from the Song dynasty, and was used on Imperial lacquer wares with dragon motifs during the Ming dynasty. The cai qi technique has an even longer history, and could be traced back to as early as the Shang and Zhou dynasties.
While the earliest time when these two techniques were first used together on lacquer wares was unknown, by the Jiajing period in the Ming dynasty, a large number of lacquer works were made utilising both the qiangjin and cai qi techniques.

The sedan poles, decorated with five-clawed dragons and cloud designs, almost certainly belonged to the Qing Court Collection and may have been used by Emperor Kangxi himself. The earliest known qiangjin and cai qi lacquer furniture and vessels from the Qing dynasty date to the Kangxi period. The Palace Museum has several Kangxi-marked qiangjin and cai qi works, including a dish with dragon motifs (accession number 00150248). It is clear that they served as important furniture and display objects in the palaces during the Kangxi reign.

Colonel The Hon. Reginald Bertie, C.B., was the sixth son of Montagu

A GEORGE III AXMINSTER CARPET

BY THOMAS WHITTY, LATE 18TH CENTURY

Woven with a central rectangular panel flanked by smaller rectangular panels, the central medallion containing a variety of musical instruments, including a drum, mandolin, cello, harps and flutes, all in shades of beige and brown and interspersed with swags of flowers and ribbons, the medallion is embraced by crossed palm fronds, and at each corner of the central panels are baskets of roses, petunias and other flowers, including roses, tulips, primroses and columbine, the whole laid on a rose pink ground scattered with deeper rose foliage and flowers, the broad border is in palest blue decorated with sprays of leave and flowers approximately 1323cm x 572cm;

Provenance:

William, 3rd Viscount Courtenay, 9th Earl of Devon, 1798, for the Music Room, Powderham Castle;
The Earls of Devon, by descent

Literature:

Bertram Jacobs, Axminster Carpets 1755 - 1957, Leigh-on-Sea, 1970, p.47, ill' frontispiece and pl.49.

'Powderham Castle III', Mark Girouard, Country Life, July 18th 1963, Vol. CXXXIV, p.140

The present lot represents an exceptionally rare and historically significant survival from the golden age of English carpet weaving: a magnificent Axminster carpet originally commissioned for the Music Room at Powderham Castle. Woven circa 1798, this extraordinary carpet exemplifies the artistic ambition and technical virtuosity of the Axminster manufactory under the direction of Thomas Whitty Junior, whose Devon-based workshop produced some of the most sophisticated, sought-after and iconic floor coverings of the 18th century.

Thomas Witty and the Axminster Workshops The best known and most successful carpet weaving workshops in England were the looms established at Axminster in Devon by Thomas Whitty in 1755. Whitty (1713-1792), an energetic weaver of cloth, recognized the growing demand for carpets among the aristocracy and wealthy merchant classes during the second half of the 18th century. Inspired by popular "Turkey Carpets", self-taught Whitty set out to make hand-knotted seamless carpets on a large upright loom. Axminster carpets were quickly recognized as the best English produced carpets available, with Whitty winning prizes for carpet weaving by the Society of Arts in 1757, 1758 and 1759. Further appreciation is illustrated by a royal visit from George III in 1783, the commissioning of carpets by the Prince of Wales, as well as commissions from the leading architectural designers of the day such as James Wyatt and Robert Adam.

The Powderham Axminster Commissioned during a period of expressive architectural endeavour at Powderham—under the patronage of William 'Kitty' Courtenay, 9th Earl of Devon—the Powderham Carpet was conceived as the crowning element of the Music Room, a space designed by James Wyatt for performance, display, and refined entertainments. Its design, steeped in the neoclassical idiom popularised by Robert Adam, complemented the architectural detailing of the room, mirroring its ceiling decoration and echoing its symmetry, classical motifs, and soft-toned palette. The present carpet has a tri-partite format with decorative end panels enclosing and surrounded by floral bouquets and leafy scrolls. The central medallion contained within the middle section is flanked by crossed palm fronds.

At the time of its delivery, the Powderham carpet was widely believed to have been the largest Axminster ever produced—an accolade it retained until the Prince Regent, reputedly in a spirit of aristocratic rivalry, commissioned an even more monumental example for Brighton Pavillion. This reflects a moment in which English decorative arts were at their most opulent and competitive.

The survival of such a carpet—of immense scale, superlative craftsmanship, and impeccable provenance—is extraordinarily rare. Its first time appearance on the market offers collectors and institutions a singular opportunity to acquire a work that stands at the intersection of textile artistry, architectural history, and aristocratic patronage, embodying the grandeur and refinement of late Georgian England.

Music Room, Powderham Castle.

BROCKLESBY PARK

HOME OF THE EARL AND COUNTESS OF YARBOROUGH
LOTS 211-383

INTRODUCTION

Brocklesby Park, the ancestral seat of the Pelham family—later the Earls of Yarborough—has stood at the heart of Lincolnshire for over four centuries. Continuously inhabited by the same family since the 16th century, the estate offers a remarkable continuity of English country house life.

Over the centuries, Brocklesby has been shaped by some of England's most distinguished architects. Charles Tatham, Jeffry Wyattville, and James Wyatt each left their mark on the evolving fabric of the house and grounds, contributing to a legacy of architectural refinement. In the Victorian and Edwardian periods, Sir Reginald Blomfield led a sensitive yet ambitious reconstruction of the house following a fire in 1898, a project later revised in the 20th century by Claude Phillimore, whose classical sensibility brought a further layer of distinction to the estate's long narrative of evolution.

While the principal rooms of Brocklesby reflect these transformations in grand and deliberate form, the attics, storerooms and stables tell a different story. Tucked away from the formal spaces, these chambers have served as quiet storehouses for generations—housing the overlooked, the outgrown, and the simply forgotten. From timeworn furniture and domestic ephemera to curious relics of daily life, the objects now brought forward provide an unvarnished glimpse into the rhythms of a great English house.

Together, these items form a fragmentary yet evocative portrait of Brocklesby's enduring past. They speak not only of aesthetic tastes but of continuity, adaptation, and the slow accumulation of Pelham family's material memory. In their wear, patina, and quiet presence, they offer a tangible connection to the layers of life lived within the estate's walls—a life shaped as much by history as by the hand of time.

These are the arms of Charles Anderson-
 Pelham (1781-1846) and his wife Henrietta
 Anna Maria Charlotte Bridgeman Simpson (1788-1813). They were married in 1806, the assay date would suggest that this was a marriage item.

Charles Anderson Pelham was the son of Charles Anderson-Pelham (1749-1823) senior by Sophia Aufere (1749-1786), whose origin was in France as a Huguenot. His father was born Charles ANDERSON in Broughton, Lincolnshire and being the eldest son and heir of Francis Anderson (1675-1747) of Manby by Eleanor CARTER (1730-1811) inherited his father's estates in Manby, Lincolnshire. In 1763, Charles Anderson further succeeded to the estates of his grandmother's brother and great-uncle Charles Pelham (1679-1763) of Brocklesby, Lincolnshire and assumed the additional surname of Pelham. In 1794 Charles 219

Anderson-Pelham senior was created Baron Yarborough. Charles Anderson-Pelham junior inherited the title of 2nd Baron Yarborough on the death of his father in 1823 and in 1837 was created Earl Yarborough. The family seat is at Brocklesby Hall, near Immingham, Lincolnshire.

Henrietta Anna Maria Charlotte Bridgeman
 Simpson was the daughter of the Hon. John

Bridgeman Simpson (1763-1850) son of Sir
 Henry Bridgeman (1725-1800) 1st Baron
 Bradford and his wife Elizabeth Simpson
 (1735-1806), by Henrietta Frances Worsley
 (1758-1791) daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Worsley (1728-1768) 6th Baronet of Appuldurcombe.

With a black fossil marble top above four drawers and flanked by herm-capped pilasters on bronzed lion paw feet, losses 91cm high, 132cm wide, 60cm deep

This ormolu-enriched commode with bacchic-lion feet relates to a pattern for a commode antique, published by La Mésangère in his, Meubles et Objects de Goût, 1802, pl. 49; reflecting the early 19th Century antique manner popularised by C. Percier and P. Fontaine's, Receuil de decorations interieures, 1801. These features, together with the nymph-herm pilasters and lion-masks handles, appear in a closely related commode pattern of 1804 published by F.G. Bertuch and G.M. Kraus, Journal des Luxus und der Moden, Weimar, (1786-1827) no. 2; 6.

 102cm high, 56cm wide, 56cm deep

The chair bears comparison with one formerly in the collection of Claude Rotch, illustrated in P. Macquoid and R. Edwards, The Dictionary of English Furniture, rev. ed. London, 1954, vol.I, p. 297, fig. 227. Rotch was an important early collector of English furniture who was heavily influenced by the connoisseur R.W.Symonds and whose bequest of early to mid-Georgian furniture to the Victoria and Albert Museum was described at the time of his death in 1962 as 'The most remarkable single gift of English Furniture ever presented to the Museum'.

Sidney Letts was a London furniture dealer active around 1900 who, having trained as a cabinet-maker, apparently also created pastiches of 18th century works. A very fine and elaborate satinwood and marquetry secretaire, possibly by Letts, is in the collection of the Victoria and Albert Museum, accession no. W.3-1963, while several variations exist of a distinctive George II mahogany armchair with spread eagle in the chair back, the original of which was in the collection of Sir John Soane, the later copies traditionally being attributed to Letts.

CORONATION ROBES

The Earl and Countess of Arran, Castle Hill, Devon

383

THE CORONATION ROBES OF THE EARL AND COUNTESS OF ARRAN

Comprising an earl's coronet, an earl's robe and a countess' robe

Provenance:

Acquired by Arthur Gore, the 6th Earl of Arran, KP KStJ PC JP DL (1868-1958) for the coronations of H.M King George VI and H.M. Queen Elizabeth II

The coronation robes and coronet offered here were acquired by Arthur Jocelyn Charles Gore, 6th Earl of Arran (1868-1958), a member of the Irish peerage, for his attendance at the coronations of King George VI in 1937 and Queen Elizabeth II in 1953. Though Irish peers did not automatically hold seats in the House of Lords after the Act of Union 1801, many—including Lord Arran—continued to be invited to major state occasions, particularly coronations. His robes follow the prescribed style for an earl: a crimson velvet mantle lined with ermine, secured with gold cord, and accompanied by a coronet of silver-gilt with eight raised strawberry leaves. The countess' robe follows equivalent conventions, with three rows of ermine tails denoting her rank. These elements formed part of the ceremonial dress regulations issued by the Earl Marshal. For further context, see: Strong, Roy. Coronation: A History of Kingship and the British Monarchy. London: HarperCollins, 2005; and The Earl Marshal's Coronation Orders, College of Arms Archives, London.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

BUYING AT DREWEATTS
There are several ways you can bid at a Dreweatts auction; in person, by leaving a commission or absentee bid, on the telephone where available and live via the internet – please make arrangements before the sale. THIS NOTICE APPLIES ONLY TO A PERSON WHO WISHES TO BID IN PERSON, OR BY LEAVING A COMMISSION OR ABSENTEE BID, AT A DREWEATTS PUBLIC AUCTION. For bidding at an online auction or for online bidding at a public auction please see our Online Auction Terms published on our website at www.dreweatts.com.

BIDDING IN PERSON
If intending to buy you are required to register your name and details at reception prior to the commencement of the auction. You will be required to provide a proof of identity and address to register for bidding. You will then be allocated a bidding number, which you use when bidding for an item.

COMMISSION BIDS
Dreweatts will execute bids on your behalf if you are unable to attend the sale. Commission or absentee bids are accepted either directly at reception, or can be sent by post, fax, email, telephone or via the website: www.dreweatts.com.

Dreweatts will add these bids to the auctioneers’ sale book and will undertake to purchase the lots on your behalf as cheaply as allowed by other bids and reserves. If two buyers submit identical commission bids Dreweatts may prefer the first bid received.

Dreweatts does not accept liability for failing to execute commission bids, or for any errors or omissions.

CONDITION
Bidders must satisfy themselves as to the condition of each lot. Condition reports are available on request – see the Conditions of Business at the back of this catalogue forming part of these Auction Terms and Conditions for more information regarding condition reports. Requests for condition reports must be submitted by 4pm on the day prior to the auction; condition reports may be available alongside the lot description on the online catalogue at: www.dreweatts.com.

COMMISSION CHARGES
All purchases are subject to a buyer’s premium, which is charged per lot at 26% of the hammer price (31.2% including VAT) up to and including £20,000, 25% (30% including VAT) of the hammer price from £20,001 up to and including £500,000, 20% (24% including VAT) of the hammer price from £500,001 up to and including £1,000,000 and 12.5% of the hammer price (15% including VAT) in excess of £1,000,000. A theta symbol (θ) indicates that the lot is a zero rated item and therefore not subject to VAT on the buyer’s premium. This applies to bound books (manuscripts and printed), unframed maps and albums. In the event the lot has a dagger (†) beside the lot number in the catalogue, this indicates that the lot is owned by an entity or company required to pay VAT (generally not an Antique Dealer, as they operate under a dealers margin scheme). VAT is payable at 20% on the Hammer Price. Lots marked with a double dagger (‡) (presently a reduced rate of 5%) or Ω (presently at standard rate of 20%) have been imported from outside the UK under Temporary Admission regime and therefore the buyer must pay the import VAT at the appropriate rate on the duty inclusive hammer price.

PAYMENT
Payment will be accepted, if you are a successful bidder, by debit card issued in the name of the Buyer by a UK bank and registered to a UK billing address; by all major UK issued credit cards issued in the name of the Buyer and registered to a UK billing address with the exception of Diners Club; by bank transfer direct into our bank account, Bank Details: NatWest, 30 Market Place, Newbury, Berkshire RG14 5AG. Account Name: Dreweatts 1759 Ltd. A/C: 62412949, Sort Code: 60-15-07, BIC: NWBKGB2L, IBAN: GB21NWBK60150762412949. The name of the bank account holder should match the name of the buyer. First time buyers who are not present at the saleroom are requested to pay by bank transfer.

CITES REGULATIONS
Please note that lots marked with the symbol (Y) in this catalogue may be subject to CITES Regulations when exported. Relevant CITES Regulations may be found at www.gov.uk/guidance/cites-imports-and-exports.

COLLECTIONS, SHIPPING AND STORAGE
Goods will be released on receipt of payment of all sales charges. Please note that none of the items in the sale will be available for collection from Dreweatts Donnington Priory.

All items will be moved to Sackville-West Moving & Storing, Andover (SP10 3SA) on Tuesday 3 June and will be ready for collection from Thursday 5 June. Storage will be free of charge until Friday 13 June. Property not collected by Friday 13 June will incur storage charges from Monday 16 June: a one-off fee of £20 plus a daily £3 storage fee per lot per part or full day thereafter (charges subject to 20% VAT). Collection is available by appointment, Monday – Friday (9am – 4:30pm). All storage charges are the responsibility of the purchaser, billed directly by Sackville-West and are payable prior to collection. Sackville-West will provide an additional week’s free storage if they are instructed by the purchaser to deliver to them. Contact: Sackville-West: tel: +44 (0) 2080 909988 | email: office@sackvillewest.co.uk.

A list of our suggested shippers is available on the Dreweatts website. Third party collections are permitted on receipt of authorisation from the invoiced buyer. To arrange a collection, contact Dreweatts: tel: +44 (0) 1635 553553 | email: collections@dreweatts.com.

FURTHER INFORMATION
The colours printed in this catalogue are not necessarily a true reflection of the actual item. All weights and measures given in the catalogue should be regarded as approximate.

VALUATION SERVICES
Dreweatts provides a range of confidential and professional valuation services to private clients, solicitors, executors, estate managers, trustees and other professional partners. These services include auction valuations, insurance valuations, probate valuations, private treaty valuations, valuations for family division or for tax purposes. For more information, please see our website: www.dreweatts.com.

For directions to Donnington Priory, please see our website: www.dreweatts.com.

Parking is available at Donnington Priory in two car parks on either side of the saleroom.

INFORMATION FOR BUYERS AT PUBLIC AUCTIONS

1. INTRODUCTION. The following notes are intended to assist Bidders and Buyers, particularly those inexperienced or new to our salerooms. All of our auctions and sales are conducted on our printed Auction Terms and Conditions, including these Conditions of Sale and Business, which are readily available for inspection and normally accompany catalogues. Our staff will be happy to help you if there is anything you do not fully understand.

Any particular auction and/or any particular lot in an auction may be subject to different or additional terms which will be published in our auction catalogue. All auctions and sales of wines and spirits, jewellery, watches and clocks are subject to the special terms set out in the relevant Notices in relation to those items published in our auction catalogue and, in the event of any conflict or inconsistency, those special terms prevail over any other terms in our Auction Terms and Conditions. By bidding at the auction, you agree to be bound by these terms.

2. AGENCY. As auctioneers we usually act as agents for the seller whose identity, for reasons of confidentiality, is not normally disclosed. Accordingly if you buy at auction your contract for the item or items purchased is with the seller and not with us as the auctioneer.

3. ESTIMATES. Estimates are designed to help buyers gauge what sort of sum might be involved for the purchase of a particular lot. Estimates may change and should not be thought of as the sale price. The lower estimate may represent the reserve price and certainly will not be below it. Estimates do not include the Buyer's Premium or VAT (where chargeable). Estimates are prepared some time before the sale and may be altered by announcement before the sale. They are in no sense definitive.

4. BUYER'S PREMIUM. The Conditions of Sale forming part of our Auction Terms and Conditions require the buyer to pay a buyer's premium on the hammer price of each lot purchased. The buyer's premium is 26% of the hammer price up to and including £20,000, 25% of the hammer price from £20,001 up to and including £500,000, 20% of the hammer price from £500,001 up to and including £1,000,000, and 12.5% of the hammer price in excess of £1,000,000. VAT at the prevailing rate of 20% is added to buyer's premium and additional charges as defined below.

5. VAT. A theta symbol (θ) indicates that the lot is a zero rated item and therefore not subject to VAT on the buyer's premium. This applies to bound books (manuscripts and printed), unframed maps and albums. A dagger symbol (†) indicates that VAT is payable by the purchaser at the standard rate (presently 20%) on the hammer price as well as being an element in the buyer's premium. This imposition of VAT is likely to be because the seller is registered for VAT within the United Kingdom and is not operating the Dealers Margin Scheme. A double dagger (§) indicates that the lot is being sold whilst subject to temporary importation and that import VAT at the reduced rate (currently 5%) calculated on the hammer price is due. (Ω) Indicates that the lot has been imported from outside the UK and that import VAT at the standard rate (currently 20%) calculated on the hammer price (inclusive of any applicable duty) is due. Lots offered subject to temporary importation (§ or Ω) require relevant customs procedure to be completed prior to the property leaving Dreweatts' premises or being exported. Dreweatts will issue the instruction to a customs broker or shipper upon receipt of full payment for the lots. The import VAT charged for lots with symbols † or Ω can be refunded if Dreweatts is instructed to re-export the property or if the VAT liability is transferred to another Temporary Admission authorisation. Lots which appear without the above symbols indicate that no VAT is payable on the hammer price; this is because such lots are sold using the Auctioneers Margin Scheme and it should be noted that the VAT included within the buyer's premium is not recoverable as input tax.

6. DESCRIPTION AND CONDITION. Condition reports are provided on our website or upon request. The absence of a report does not imply that a lot is without imperfections. The detail in a report will reflect the estimated value of the lot. Large numbers of such requests received shortly before the sale may mean that reports cannot be provided for all lots. Members of staff are not trained restorers or conservators and, particularly for higher value lots, you should obtain an opinion from such a professional. Dreweatts is not liable for damage to gilded picture frames, plaster picture frames or picture frame glass; if a Lot is or becomes dangerous, we may dispose of it without notice to bidders in advance in any manner we see fit and will be under no liability for doing so. We recommend that you always view a lot in person.

We are dependent on information provided by the seller about a lot and whilst we may inspect lots and act reasonably in taking a general view about them we are normally unable to carry out a detailed examination and frequently no examination of lots in order to ascertain their condition in the way in which it would be wise for a buyer to do. Intending buyers have ample opportunity for inspection of goods and, therefore, accept responsibility for inspecting and investigating lots in which they may be interested and the corresponding risk should they not do so. Please note carefully the exclusion of liability for the condition of lots contained in the Conditions of Sale. Neither the seller nor we, as the auctioneers, accept any responsibility for their condition. In particular, mechanical objects of any age are not guaranteed to be in working order. However, in so far as we have examined the goods and make a representation about their condition in the auction catalogue, we shall be liable for any defect which is not reflected in that representation and which that examination ought to have revealed to the auctioneer but which would not have been revealed to the buyer had the buyer examined the goods. Additionally, in specified circumstances lots misdescribed because they are 'deliberate forgeries' may be returned and repayment made. There is a 3 week time limit. (The expression 'deliberate forgery' is defined in our Conditions of Sale).

7. ELECTRICAL GOODS. These are sold as 'antiques' only and if bought for use must be checked over for compliance with safety regulations by a qualified electrician before use.

8. EXPORT OF GOODS. Buyers intending to export goods should ascertain (a) whether an export licence is required and (b) whether there is any specific prohibition on importing goods of that character because, e.g. they may contain prohibited materials such as ivory. Ask us if you need help.

Private overseas buyers can only receive goods free of VAT or have the VAT amount refunded if Dreweatts acts as exporter in relation to the sale, the goods are exported within 3 months of the sale and Dreweatts is in possession of adequate export documents. The VAT refunds are available for transactions exceeding £2,500. If you arrange for the goods to be picked up/delivered to you directly we will charge UK VAT at the appropriate rate and no refund will be available. Please note, buyers are responsible for completing the importation procedures as well as the payment of any relevant duty/VAT payable on importation into the destination country.

Where the purchase has been made in the business or trading name, VAT refund will be available on proof of export provided within 3 months of the sale.

9. BIDDING. Bidders will be required to register before the sale commences and lots will be invoiced to the name and address on the sale registration form. Bidders are required to provide a government issued identity document and a proof of address. Please enquire in advance about our arrangements for telephone bidding.

10. COMMISSION BIDDING. Commission bids may be left with the auctioneers indicating the maximum amount to be bid excluding buyer's premium. Dreweatts will add these bids to the auctioneers' sale book and they will be executed as cheaply as possible having regard to the reserve (if any) and competing bids. If two buyers submit identical commission bids the auctioneers may prefer the first bid received. Please enquire in advance about our arrangements for the leaving of commission bids by telephone or fax. Dreweatts does not accept liability for failing to execute commission bids, or for any errors or omissions.

11. METHODS OF PAYMENT. Payment will be accepted, if you are a successful bidder, by debit card issued in the name of the Buyer by a UK bank and registered to a UK billing address; by all major UK issued credit cards issued in the name of the Buyer and registered to a UK billing address with the exception of Diners Club; by bank transfer direct into our bank account, Bank Details: NatWest, 30 Market Place, Newbury, Berkshire RG14 5AG. Account Name: Dreweatts 1759 Ltd. A/C: 62412949, Sort Code: 60-15-07, BIC: NWBKGB2L, IBAN: GB21NWBK60150762412949. The name of the bank account holder should match the name of the buyer. First time buyers who are not present at the saleroom are requested to pay by bank transfer.

12. COLLECTION AND STORAGE. Please note what the Conditions of Sale state about collection and storage. It is important that goods are paid for and collected promptly. Any delay may involve the buyer in paying storage charges.

13. λ ARTIST'S RESALE RIGHT (DROIT DE SUITE) ROYALTY CHARGES. Under Artist's Resale Right (ARR) UK art market professionals (including, but not limited to, auctioneers, art dealers and galleries) are required to collect a royalty for works of art produced by qualifying artists each time a work is resold during the artist's lifetime and for a period up to 70 years following the artist's death. This payment is only applicable to qualifying works of art when the hammer price reaches or exceeds £1,000. The charge is calculated on the portions of the hammer price according to the following rate bands:

Royalty Rate	Portion of the hammer
4%	up to £50,000
3%	between £50,000.01 and £200,000
1%	between £200,000.01 and £350,000
0.5%	between £350,000.01 and £500,000
0.25%	in excess of £500,000

The royalty charge is capped at £12,500 per artwork. All royalty charges are passed on, no handling costs or additional fees with respect to these charges will be retained by Dreweatts. The ARR charge is VAT exempt. All items in this catalogue that are marked with λ are potentially qualifying items. The charge will be added to the buyer's invoice and must be paid before items can be released to the buyer.

TERMS OF CONSIGNMENT FOR SELLERS IN PUBLIC AUCTIONS

The sale of goods at our public auctions and a seller's relationship with us are governed by our Auction Terms and Conditions including these Terms of Consignment for Sellers in Public Auctions and our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions. Any particular auction and/or any particular lot in an auction may be subject to different or additional terms which will be published in our auction catalogue or separately announced prior to the auction. All auctions and sales of wines and spirits, jewellery, watches and clocks are subject to the special terms set out in the relevant Notices in relation to those items published in our auction catalogue and, in the event of any conflict or inconsistency, those special terms prevail over any other terms in our Auction Terms and Conditions. Please note that our Auction Terms and Conditions including these Terms of Consignment for Sellers in Public Auctions and our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions relate to auctions held in our salerooms and we have separate terms and conditions for our online auctions.

If you, or another person acting on your behalf, provide goods to us to sell on your behalf at one of our auctions this signifies that you agree to and will comply with our Auction Terms and Conditions including these Terms of Consignment for Sellers in Public Auctions and our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions.

1. INTERPRETATION. In these Terms the words 'you', 'yours', etc. refer to the Seller and if the consignment of goods to us is made by an agent or otherwise on the Seller's behalf we assume that the Seller has authorised the consignment and that the consignor has the Seller's authority to contract. All obligations that apply to the Seller under these Terms of Consignment for Sellers in Public Auctions shall apply to the owner of the goods and their agent jointly and separately. Similarly the words 'we', 'us', etc. refer to the Auctioneers.

2. WARRANTY. The Seller warrants that possession in the lots can be transferred to the Buyer with good and marketable title, free from any third party right and encumbrances, claims or potential claims. The Seller has provided all information concerning the item's ownership, condition and provenance, attribution, authenticity, import or export history and of any concerns expressed by third parties concerning the same.

3. ALL COMMISSIONS. and fees are subject to VAT at the prevailing rate.

4. COMMISSION. is charged to sellers and all selling terms are available from our salerooms.

5. REMOVAL COSTS. Items for sale must be consigned to the saleroom by any stated deadline and at your expense. We may be able to assist you with this process but any liability incurred to a carrier for haulage charges is solely your responsibility.

6. LOSS AND DAMAGE OF GOODS

(a) Loss and Damage Warranty - Dreweatts is not authorised by the FCA to provide insurance to its clients, and does not do so. However Dreweatts for its own protection assumes liability for property consigned to it at the lower pre-sale estimate until the hammer falls. To justify accepting liability, Dreweatts makes a charge of 1.5% of the hammer price plus VAT, subject to a minimum charge of £1.50, or if unsold 1.5% of our lower estimate. The liability assumed by Dreweatts shall be limited to the lower pre-sale estimate or the hammer price if the lot is sold. Dreweatts is not liable for damage to gilded picture frames, plaster picture frames or picture frame glass; if the Lot is or becomes dangerous, we may dispose of it without notice to you in advance in any manner we see fit and will be under no liability for doing so.

(b) If the owner of the goods consigned instructs us in writing not to take such action, the goods then remain entirely at the owner's risk unless and until the property in them passes to the Buyer or they are collected by or on behalf of the owner, and clause 6 (a) is inapplicable.

7. ILLUSTRATIONS AND PHOTOGRAPHS. The cost of any illustrations or photographs is borne by the property. The copyright in respect of such illustrations and photographs shall be the property of us, the auctioneers, as is the text of the catalogue.

8. MINIMUM BIDS AND OUR DISCRETION. Goods will normally be offered subject to a reserve agreed between us before the sale in accordance with clause 9. We may sell Lots below the reserve provided we account to you for the same sale proceeds as you would have received had the reserve been the hammer price. If you specifically give us a "discretion" we may accept a bid of up to 10% below the formal reserve.

9. RESERVES

(a) You are entitled to place prior to the auction a reserve on any lot consigned, being the minimum hammer price at which that lot may be sold. Reserves must be reasonable and we may decline to offer goods which in our opinion would be subject to an unreasonably high reserve (in which case goods carry the storage and loss and damage warranty charges stipulated in these Terms of Consignment).

(b) A reserve once set cannot be changed except with our consent.

(c) Where a reserve has been set which we consider unreasonably high, an unsold charge will be payable in the event that the lots fails to sell, being the agreed selling terms calculated on the reserve, LDW at 1.5% and any photographic charges.

(d) Where a reserve has been placed only we may bid on your behalf and only up to the reserve (if any) and you may in no circumstances bid personally.

(e) Reserves are not usually accepted for lots expected to realise below £100.

10. ELECTRICAL ITEMS. These are subject to detailed statutory safety controls. Where such items are accepted for sale you accept responsibility for the cost of testing by external contractors. Goods not certified as safe by an electrician (unless antiques) will not be accepted for sale. They must be removed at your expense on your being notified. We reserve the right to dispose of unsafe goods as refuse, at your expense.

11. SOFT FURNISHINGS. The sale of soft furnishings is strictly regulated by statute law in the interests of fire safety. Goods found to infringe safety regulations will not be offered and must be removed at your expense. We reserve the right to dispose of unsafe goods as refuse, at your expense. The rights of disposal referred to in clause 10 and 11 are subject to the provisions of The Torts (Interference with Goods) Act 1977.

12. DESCRIPTION. Please assist us with accurate information as to the provenance, lawful import etc. of goods where this is relevant. There is strict liability for the accuracy of descriptions under modern consumer legislation and in some circumstances responsibility lies with sellers if inaccuracies occur. We will assume that you have approved the catalogue description of your lots and that your lots match those descriptions unless informed to the contrary. Where we are obliged to return the price to the buyer when the lot is a deliberate forgery under Condition 15 of the Conditions of Sale and we have accounted to you for the proceeds of sale you agree to reimburse us the sale proceeds and in any event within 7 days of our written notice to do so.

13. UNSOLD. If an item is unsold it may at our discretion be re-offered at a future sale. Where in our opinion an item is unsaleable you must collect such items from the saleroom promptly on being so informed. Otherwise, storage charges may be incurred. We reserve the right to charge for storage in these circumstances at a reasonable daily rate.

14. WITHDRAWN AND BOUGHT IN ITEMS. These are liable to incur a charge of 15% commission, 1.5 % Loss and Damage Warranty and any other costs incurred including but not limited to illustration and restoration fees all of these charges being subject to VAT on being bought in or withdrawn after being catalogued.

15. CONDITIONS OF SALE. You agree that all goods will be sold on our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions. In particular you undertake that you have the right to sell the goods either as owner or agent for the owner with good and marketable title and free and clear of any third party rights or claims. You undertake to compensate us and any buyer or third party for all losses liabilities, costs and expenses suffered or incurred arising out of or in connection with any breach of this undertaking. We will also, at our discretion, and as far as practicable, confirm that an item consigned for sale does not appear on the Art Loss register, which is administered by an independent third party.

16. DUE DILIGENCE CHECKS AND ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING PROCEDURES. Under the money laundering regulations in force we are required to carry out relevant due diligence checks. This includes verifying the identity of all customers we transact with as well as any beneficial owners on behalf of whom they may transact. Vendors who are unable to or refuse to supply required identification documents and proof of address will not be able to consign to Dreweatts auctions. Copies of customer due diligence checks will be stored for as long as it is necessary to satisfy legal requirements in an appropriate storage facility, which for the avoidance of doubt may include storage solely in electronic form. We reserve the right to withhold the monies owed until the vendor provides the information necessary to complete the anti-money laundering checks.

17. AUTHORITY TO DEDUCT COMMISSION AND EXPENSES AND RETAIN PREMIUM AND INTEREST

(a) You authorise us to deduct commission at the stated rate and all expenses incurred for your account from the hammer price and consent to our right to retain beneficially the premium paid by the buyer in accordance with our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions and any interest earned on the sale proceeds until the date of settlement.

(b) In case of lots unsold at auction you authorise us at our discretion to reoffer such lots and negotiate a sale within seven days of the auction date, in which case the same charges will be payable as if such lots had been sold at auction and so far as appropriate these Terms apply.

18. WAREHOUSING. We disclaim all liability for goods delivered to our saleroom without sufficient sale instructions and reserve the right to make minimum warehousing charge of £10 per lot per day. Unsold lots are subject to the same charges if you do not remove them within a reasonable time of notification. If not removed within three weeks we reserve the right to sell them and defray charges from any net proceeds of sale or at your expense to consign them to the local authority for disposal.

19. SETTLEMENT. After sale settlement of the net sum due to you normally takes place within 28 days of the sale unless the buyer has not paid for the goods or the checks necessary under the current Money Laundering Regulations have not been completed. In this case no settlement will then be made but we will take your instructions in the light of our Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions. You authorise any sums owed by you to us on other transactions to be deducted from the sale proceeds. You must note the liability to reimburse the proceeds of sale to us as under the circumstances provided for in Condition 12 above. You should therefore bear this potential liability in mind before parting with the proceeds of sale until the expiry of 28 days from the date of sale.

CONDITIONS OF SALE FOR PUBLIC AUCTIONS

Dreweatts carries on business with bidders, buyers and all those present in the auction room prior to or in connection with a sale by auction at our salerooms on our Auction Terms and Conditions or Public Auctions including these Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions and all bidders, buyers and others participating in a public auction accept that these terms apply to the exclusion of any terms and conditions contained in any of those person's own documents even if the same purport to provide that that person's own or some other terms prevail. Any particular public auction and/or any particular lot in an auction may be subject to different or additional terms which will be published in our online auction catalogue. Please note that our Auction Terms and Conditions including these Conditions of Sale for Public Auctions relate to auctions held in one of our salerooms and we have separate terms and conditions for our online auctions.

1. DEFINITIONS
In these Conditions:
(a) "auctioneer" means the firm of Dreweatts or its authorised auctioneer, as appropriate;
(b) "deliberate forgery" means an imitation made with the intention of deceiving as to authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source but which is unequivocally described in the catalogue as being the work of a particular creator and which at the date of the sale had a value materially less than it would have had if it had been in accordance with the description;
(c) "hammer price" means the level of bidding reached (at or above any reserve) when the auctioneer brings down the hammer;
(d) "terms of consignment" means the stipulated terms and rates of commission on which Dreweatts accepts instructions from sellers or their agents;
(e) "total amount due" means the hammer price in respect of the lot sold together with any premium, Value Added Tax chargeable and any additional charges payable by a defaulting buyer under these Conditions;
(f) "sale proceeds" means the net amount due to the seller, being the hammer price of the lot sold less commission at the stated rate, Value Added Tax chargeable and any other amounts due to us by the seller in whatever capacity and however arising;
(g) "You", "Your", etc. refer to the buyer as identified in Condition 2.
(h) The singular includes the plural and vice versa as appropriate.
2. BIDDING PROCEDURES AND THE BUYER
(a) Bidders are required to register their particulars before bidding by completing a sale registration form and to satisfy any security arrangements before entering the auction room to view or bid;
(b) Under the money laundering regulations in force we are required to verify the identity of all customers we transact with as well as any beneficiaries on behalf of whom they may transact. Customers who are unable to or refuse to supply required identification documents and proof of address will not be able to bid in Dreweatts auctions. Copies of customer due diligence checks will be stored for as long as it is necessary to satisfy legal requirements in an appropriate storage facility which for the avoidance of doubt may include storage solely in electronic form;
(c) the maker of the highest bid accepted by the auctioneer conducting the sale shall be the buyer at the hammer price and any dispute about a bid shall be settled at the auctioneer's absolute discretion by reoffering the Lot during the course of the auction or otherwise. The auctioneer shall act reasonably in exercising this discretion.
(d) Bidders shall be deemed to act as principals;
(e) Our right to bid on behalf of the seller is expressly reserved up to the amount of any reserve and the right to refuse any bid is also reserved.
3. INCREMENTS. Bidding increments shall be at the auctioneer's sole discretion.
4. THE PURCHASE PRICE. The buyer shall pay the purchase price together with a premium thereon of 30% which shall include VAT on the premium at the rate imposed by law. The buyer will also be liable for any royalties payable under Droit de Suite as set out under Information for Buyers.
5. VALUE ADDED TAX. Value Added Tax on the hammer price is imposed by law on all items affixed with a dagger (†) or double dagger (‡). Value Added Tax is charged at the appropriate rate prevailing by law at the date of sale and is payable by buyers of relevant Lots. (Please refer to "Information for Buyers" for a brief explanation of the VAT position).
6. PAYMENT
(a) Immediately a Lot is sold you will:
(i) give to us, if requested, proof of identity, and
(ii) pay to us the total amount due or in such other way as is agreed by us.

(b) Any payments by you to us may be applied by us towards any sums owing from you to us on any account whatever without regard to any directions of you or your agent, whether expressed or implied.
(c) In order to comply with money laundering regulations we reserve the right to require proof of source of funds and/ or confirmation of the nature and source of wealth for all receipts of monies from clients directly or from third parties for payments on behalf of clients. Lots will only be released once we have completed necessary checks under the current Money Laundering Regulations.
7. TITLE AND COLLECTION OF PURCHASES
(a) The ownership of any Lots purchased shall not pass to you until you have made payment in full to us of the total amount due.
(b) You shall at your own risk and expense take away any lots that you have purchased and paid for not later than 3 working days following the day of the auction after which you shall be responsible for any removal, storage and insurance charges.
(c) No purchase can be claimed or removed until it has been paid for and we have completed necessary checks under the current Money Laundering Regulations.
8. REMEDIES FOR NON-PAYMENT OR FAILURE TO COLLECT PURCHASES
(a) If any Lot is not paid for in full and taken away in accordance with these Conditions or if there is any other breach of these Conditions, we, as agent for the seller and on our own behalf, shall at our absolute discretion and without prejudice to any other rights we may have, be entitled to exercise one or more of the following rights and remedies:
(i) to proceed against you for damages for breach of contract;
(ii) to rescind the sale of that Lot and/or any other Lots sold by us to you;
(iii) to resell the Lot (by auction or private treaty) in which case you shall be responsible for any resulting deficiency in the total amount due (after crediting any part payment and adding any resale costs). Any surplus so arising shall belong to the seller;
(iv) to remove, store and insure the Lot at your expense and, in the case of storage, either at our premises or elsewhere;
(v) to charge interest at a rate not exceeding 1.5% per month on the total amount due to the extent it remains unpaid for more than 3 working days after the sale;
(vi) to retain that or any other Lot sold to you until you pay the total amount due;
(vii) to reject or ignore bids from you or your agent at future auctions or to impose conditions before any such bids shall be accepted;
(viii) to apply any proceeds of sale of other Lots due or in future becoming due to you towards the settlement of the total amount due and to exercise a lien (that is a right to retain possession of) any of your property in our possession for any purpose until the debt due is satisfied.
(b) We shall, as agent for the seller and on our own behalf pursue these rights and remedies only so far as is reasonable to make appropriate recovery in respect of breach of these conditions.
9. THIRD PARTY LIABILITY. All bidders, buyers and other members of the public on our premises are there at their own risk and must note the lay-out of the accommodation and security arrangements. Accordingly neither the auctioneer nor our employees or agents shall incur liability for death or personal injury or for the safety of the property of persons visiting prior to or at a sale (except in each case as may be required by law by reason of our negligence)
10. COMMISSION BIDS. Whilst prospective buyers are strongly advised to attend the auction and are always responsible for any decision to bid for a particular Lot and shall be assumed to have carefully inspected and satisfied themselves as to its condition, we will if so instructed clearly and in writing execute bids on their behalf. Neither the auctioneer nor our employees or agents shall be responsible for any failure to do so.
Where two or more commission bids at the same level are recorded we reserve the right in our absolute discretion to prefer the first bid so made.
11. WARRANTY OF TITLE AND AVAILABILITY. The seller warrants to the auctioneer and you that the seller is the true owner of the property consigned or is properly authorised by the true owner to consign for sale and is able to transfer good and marketable title to the property free from any third party claims.
Save as expressly set out above, all other warranties, conditions or other terms which might have effect between the Seller and you, or us and you, or be implied or incorporated by statute, common law or otherwise are excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.
12. AGENCY. The auctioneer normally acts as agent only and disclaims any responsibility for default by sellers or buyers.

13. TERMS OF SALE. The seller acknowledges that Lots are sold subject to the stipulations of these Conditions in their entirety and on the Terms of Consignment for Public Auctions as notified to the consignor at the time of the entry of the Lot.
14. DESCRIPTIONS AND CONDITION
(a) Whilst we seek to describe lots accurately, it may be impractical for us to carry out exhaustive due diligence on each lot. Prospective buyers are given ample opportunities to view and inspect before any sale and they (and any independent experts on their behalf) must satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of any description applied to a lot. Prospective buyers also bid on the understanding that, inevitably, representations or statements by us as to authorship, genuineness, origin, date, age, provenance, condition or estimated selling price involve matters of opinion. We undertake that any such opinion shall be honestly and reasonably held and accept liability for opinions given negligently or fraudulently. Subject to the foregoing neither we the auctioneer nor our employees or agents nor the seller accept liability for the correctness of such opinions and all conditions and warranties, whether relating to description, condition or quality of lots, express, implied or statutory, are hereby excluded. Dreweatts is not liable for damage to gilded picture frames, plaster picture frames or picture frame glass; if the Lot is or becomes dangerous, we may dispose of it without notice to you in advance in any manner we see fit and will be under no liability for doing so. This Condition is subject to the next following Condition concerning deliberate forgeries and applies save as provided for in paragraph 6 "information to buyers".
(b) Private treaty sales made under these Conditions are deemed to be sales by auction for purposes of consumer legislation.
15. FORGERIES. Notwithstanding the preceding Condition, any Lot which proves to be a deliberate forgery (as defined) may be returned to us by you within 21 days of the auction provided it is in the same condition as when bought, and is accompanied by particulars identifying it from the relevant catalogue description and a written statement of defects. If we are satisfied from the evidence presented that the Lot is a deliberate forgery we shall refund the money paid by you for the Lot including any buyer's premium provided that (1) if the catalogue description reflected the accepted view of scholars and experts as at the date of sale or
(2) you personally are not able to transfer a good and marketable title to us, you shall have no rights under this condition.
The right of return provided by this Condition is additional to any right or remedy provided by law or by these Conditions of Sale.
16. PRIVACY NOTICE. We will hold and process any personal data in relation to you in accordance with our current privacy policy, a copy of which is available on our website www.dreweatts.com/privacy-policy/.
GENERAL
17. We shall have the right at our discretion, to refuse admission to our premises or attendance at our auctions by any person.
18. (a) Any right to compensation for losses liabilities and expenses incurred in respect of and as a result of any breach of these Conditions and any exclusions provided by them shall be available to the seller and/or the auctioneer as appropriate.
(b) Such rights and exclusions shall extend to and be deemed to be for the benefit of employees and agents of the seller and/or the auctioneer who may themselves enforce them.
19. Any notice to any buyer, seller, bidder or viewer may be given by first class mail, email or Swiftmail in which case it shall be deemed to have been received by the addressee 48 hours after posting.
20. Special terms may be used in catalogue descriptions of particular classes of items in which case the descriptions must be interpreted in accordance with any glossary appearing at the commencement of the catalogue.
21. Any indulgence extended to bidders, buyers or sellers by us notwithstanding the strict terms of these Conditions or of the Terms of Consignment shall affect the position at the relevant time only and in respect of that particular concession only; in all other respects these Conditions shall be construed as having full force and effect.
22. These Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law and the parties irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.
